Seton Catholic Prep Announces New Assistant Principal

Mrs. Patricia Collins, Principal of Seton Catholic Preparatory High School, is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. David Sorkin to the position of Assistant Principal effective July 1.

Mr. Sorkin most recently served as the Dean of Students at Providence Academy, a Catholic Independent School for grades pre-Kindergarten through 12 in Plymouth, Minnesota. He brings to Seton his experiences with curriculum and has served as a teacher and department chair. As assistant principal, David will be responsible for supervision of the faculty and oversight of the academic and summer programs. He will work closely with the administrative team to further Seton's mission of providing a premier college preparatory Catholic education for students in the east valley.

David received his bachelor's degree from St. Olaf College and his master's degree from the University of Notre Dame. He will be relocating to Arizona this summer along with his wife Kelly and their two sons, Aaron and Eli, ages 5 and 3. The Seton Catholic Prep community looks forward to welcoming them to Chandler.
